

Mr. Cooper's Driver Education

Ch. 3 Study Guide

- What do the warning lights indicate?
 - Safety Belt Light
 - Alternator light
 - Air-bag light
 - Oil-pressure light
- What happens when you turn the key one position to accessory?
- What lights turn on when you press the brake pedal?
- What happens when you press on the accelerator pedal?
- How do you activate a parking brake?
- How do you indicate a turn?
- What is the area not seen in rear or side view mirrors called?
- What is hand-over-hand steering?
- What should you have in your hand as you approach a parked vehicle?
- How should you approach a vehicle parked on the side of a road?
- What shift lever position is used for normal forward driving?
- Where should your hands be as you drive forwards?
- What do the various gauges indicate?
 - Tachometer
 - Speedometer
 - Odometer
 - Fuel gauge
- What might happen if you attempt to start an engine that is already running?
- What should you do while preparing to pull out of a parking spot next to a road with traffic?
- Where should your foot be when you start a vehicle with an automatic transmission?
- How do you efficiently use the brakes to make a smooth stop?
- When would you use each shift lever position?
 - Reverse (R)
 - Park (P)
 - Neutral (N)
 - Drive (D)
- What is the purpose of a transmission?
- What is the purpose of the clutch?
- What happens when the hazard lights are activated?
- What is the braking point?

